

GOP Probers Question Hull Exoneration In War With Japs

By JACK BELL
Washington, Nov. 17 (AP) — The Pearl Harbor investigating committee turned today to questioning whether any act of United States officials touched off the war with Japan.

Republican members told newsmen they would challenge a summary of Japan's side of the story which Rear Adm. T. B. Inglis, naval intelligence officer, expected to lay before the committee in its third day of hearings.

Senator Brewster (R., Me.), who has had the summary in his possession since Thursday, expressed the opinion to reporters that the report was designed to show former Secretary of State Hull "was not responsible for the war."

Report Clears Hull
Brewster said the summary undertaken to prove that the Japanese decision to attack Pearl Harbor was made long before Hull's negotiations with Nipponese "peace" envoys reached their climax with the presentation of final American proposals on November 25, 1941.

"In this way," the Maine Senator declared, "the report is being used to say that Mr. Hull was not responsible for the start of the war."

"I am a friend of Mr. Hull, but that certainly is a partisan conclusion for the navy to make. The committee, not the navy, ought to make the conclusion."

Representative Keefe (R., Wis.) insisted that orders to execute the Japanese plan for attack came only after Hull's proposals were handed to the envoys here.

Representative Gearhart (R., Calif.) declared his belief that the Japanese were "doing everything in their power" to reach agreement with the United States, adding that they regarded Hull's proposals as an ultimatum.

He told reporters that the Japanese attacking force, which already had started steaming east, "would have turned around and gone back home" if a working agreement had been obtained in the diplomatic talks.

Want Official Data
Brewster and Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) said the summary contains only conclusions reached by the navy officials from the records of captured Japanese documents and interviews with Japanese prisoners.

Backed by Gearhart and Keefe, the two Senators said they want the original documents produced and witnesses summoned to support the conclusions.

The four Republicans disclosed their strategy is to question Admiral Inglis and Col. Bernard Thielens, who have been on the stand for the last two days, in such a way that the committee must call additional documents for its records and summon additional witnesses.

By asking questions which the two—who were not at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack—could not answer, Ferguson said progress had been made.

Democrats fought back against this maneuver yesterday. Chairman Barkley (D., Ky.) said the committee had adopted the procedure of having Inglis and Thielens narrate only non-controversial facts about the actual attack.

HITLER'S MISSING AIDE TO BE TRIED

Nuernberg, Nov. 17 (AP)—Martin Bormann, missing since he left Hitler's side during the battle of Berlin, will be tried in absentia with court-appointed German attorneys defending him, the International War Crimes Tribunal ruled today.

Adjourning after a public hearing of less than one hour, the tribunal rendered no decision on prosecution requests that the trial be postponed beyond November 20 and that Alfred Krupp, heir to the Krupp munitions empire, be indicted as a war criminal in place of his ailing father.

In announcing its decision on Bormann, the court simply classified him as "missing."

The British said that it was clear that Bormann had been with Hitler and other high Nazi officials in the Berlin chancellery on April 30.

The following day, Bormann and a party of followers tried to break through the lines and escape, according to the version presented to the tribunal. While crossing a bridge, a Red Army soldier threw a hand grenade into the party. Three survivors have been interrogated. Two claimed Bormann was dead while one said he was wounded, the British report said.

HOSPITAL ON APPROVED LIST AFTER SURVEY

The American College of Surgeons again has placed the Warner hospital on its approved list and the hospital board of directors heard at their Friday evening meeting the results of the survey made of the local institution by the college.

The letter reporting on the results of the survey came from Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate director, and praised the hospital for "a well-kept plant, good equipment and capable management."

The board also made formal acknowledgement of the $10,000 gift voted the hospital last Monday by the Gettysburg Elks club for the purchase of deep therapy x-ray equipment. A special committee was named to make recommendations for the installation and operation of the Elks financed equipment.

Break Ground For Annex
The directors heard progress reports on the construction of the Christian H. Musselman Memorial annex. Ground was broken Monday for the new structure on which contracts were awarded only recently.

The board received the monthly report on activities for the past month at the hospital disclosing an unusually busy month of October in which a total of 199 patients were admitted and 180 were discharged. The daily average number of patients was given as 43. There were 52 patients in the hospital on the last day of October as compared with 40 carried over from September.

There were 21 male births and 18 girls born at the hospital in October. Seven deaths occurred and a total of 31 accident patients was treated.

"FREE ROADS" HELPS BUSINESS

Wellsboro, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP)—Larry Woodin of Wellsboro declared that Pennsylvania could boost its tourist trade from $400,000,000 to $700,000,000 a year if it had a "proper road program."

He made the assertion at a meeting of the Roosevelt highway association, the first held since October, 1941, at which the group endorsed the stand of the Pennsylvania free roads association against further extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike, a toll road.

Woodin, an organizer of the free roads group, asked:

"Are we going to spend funds for the benefit of those in business in Pennsylvania, or for the fellow who wants to get across Pennsylvania in a hurry?"

"When you have the present primary roads so wide and so safe that you can't spend any more money on them, then go ahead and build toll roads."

Deputy State Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock of Meadville suggested that the association's program be taken directly to Governor Martin. Shook declared himself in favor of development of farm-to-market roads.

H. C. Mitinger of Gettysburg said "improved free roads will insure development of free enterprise along the highways."

CONFERENCE IN WORSE TROUBLE ON WAGE ISSUE

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP) — The Labor-Management conference made its first step toward industrial peace today with the filing of a report in today's conciliation and voluntary arbitration when employers and workers disagree.

In negotiating initial agreements between a union and a company, a conference committee agreed, no lockout should be called until all peaceful bargaining measures have been exhausted.

The report, still subject to approval by the executive committee and the full conference, was the first so far made by six committees working on methods of reducing industrial strike.

But on the hot issue of a national wage increase policy, the conference was worse snarled than ever before.

Opinion Shaded
Three resolutions now are before the executive council, all indorsing collective bargaining but in three shades of opinion.

Management offered a proposal yesterday which would rule out any conference deliberation on national wage levels. John L. Lewis put in another supporting free bargaining without regard to the President's policy of raising wages generally without raising prices.

And Philip Murray, CIO president, declared he would continue to fight for his resolution asking immediate collective bargaining everywhere "within the framework" of the President's declaration that wage increases are needed.

Jobs For All

If the executive committee kills his resolution, Murray said at a news conference last night, he will demand that he be allowed to state CIO's position before a full meeting of all 36 labor-management delegates. Such meetings are open to the press.

A management official meanwhile predicted there would "be a job for everyone who wants to work" if the conference succeeds in minimizing labor strike and government curbs on business are lifted.

The retail ceiling price for young turkeys at chain stores is 44 cents live weight and 60 to 64 cents dressed and drawn, depending upon the weight. Old turkeys will retail at not more than 42 cents live weight and 61 to 58 cents dressed and drawn.

Ceilings on producers' price to wholesalers at the farm is 35.3 cents per pound live weight. Dressed and drawn the wholesale price is $2.7 to 50.7 cents per pound—On old turkeys the wholesale price at the farm is 33.3 cents alive and from 59.2 to 48.6 cents dressed and drawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Hotel Gettysburg, have returned from a trip to New York city.

FILIPINOS USE OXEN ON FARMS WRITES R. E. FOX

Natives in the Philippines, where Pvt. Robert E. Fox, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Shields, 135 North Washington street, is now stationed, use oxen to work the soil, according to a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Shields. Private Fox reached the Pacific recently by way of Panama and Pearl Harbor.

"The last time we got on the ship was the 20th day of September and we did not get off until October 20," the letter said. "I was sure glad to get off the ship at Manila. There we were loaded on landing barges and rode on them for just about two hours, then got off and got on a train."

"We had to stand in the cars or else sit on the floor. The train did not move for an hour and a half, then when it did start it just crawled along. It took us four hours to get to the camp which I am at now. On top of that, it was raining, too."

Natives Speak English

"There are quite a lot of natives around here. They are sure sociable, and talk pretty plain, too. They go through the camp selling bananas and coconuts. Bananas are 60 cents per dozen and coconuts are 10 cents up to a quarter."

"Yesterday we had two hours of physical exercises in the morning, then in the afternoon we had a five-mile hike around the camp. The natives use oxen to work the soil in the islands. They use one at a time to plow. They just run furrows about 12 inches apart and then use a bamboo tooth harrow to work it."

"I wish you could see the Spanish girls that are in Colon and Panama. They sure are the limit. There is no law there so they do anything at all, do not stop at anything."

"When we stopped at Pearl Harbor we were not left off the ship. I sure would of liked to take a tour of the island. I saw quite a lot of ships that were sunk during the attack there. Some of them were half sunk, others had only the tops of the masts appearing above the water."

Rough Passage

"The ocean from Panama to Pearl Harbor was terribly rough. We went through two storms. After we left Pearl Harbor the ocean was just as calm as if we were riding in a new car, just as smooth, no waves at all."

"I hope my orders come soon so as to get out of this camp. There is nothing here. The PX only has soft drinks. They have a little candy, not much variety. It is terrible hot here in the daytime and real cool at night. I sleep between wool blankets at night."

David R. Perry, Esq., Will Speak Sunday

Original Charter Of First Insurance Company Is Found

Harrisburg, Nov. 17 (AP)—The original charter of what Pennsylvania officials believe is the first insurance company organized in America has been found by accident in a commonwealth vault.

The articles of incorporation of the Philadelphia Contribution Society For Insuring Of Houses From Loss Of Fire were discovered, deputy state Secretary Samuel Jackson said today, in going over old records in connection with a plan to move them to a new place.

The charter, signed by John Penn, grandson of William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, was issued in 1768. Penn signed as lieutenant governor when Pennsylvania was still a British province. The company was organized on March 25, 1752. It is still in existence.

Governor Martin, commenting on the discovery, said the charter was priceless and added: "If we could put it up for sale,

Ask Court To Name School Directors

A petition for the appointment by Judge W. C. Sheely of two school directors for terms of six years each in the Conewago independent school district, was filed in the office of Adams County Prothonotary Arthur H. Shields, Friday.

The terms of P. Lawrence Hoover and Charles L. Livingston will expire the first Monday in December, and the 11 petitioners suggest to the court the appointment of Mr. Hoover and Harold M. Boyer for the full six-year terms.

LICENSES FOR RESTAURANTS, TAVERNS SENT

The first 1,500 restaurant licenses to be issued by the State Health department under the new legislation regarding the conducting and operating of public eating and drinking places have been mailed by the department.

The new restaurant law was passed by the 1945 session of the state legislature and became a law when Gov. Edward Martin signed the bill on May 23.

A section of the law provides that "from and after a period of six months after the effective date of this act it shall be unlawful to conduct or operate a public eating and drinking place without first obtaining a license as herein provided."

Must be Inspected

Dr. Howard W. Weest, secretary of health, said that in all probability it will be impossible to mail all licenses before November 23 when the new law goes into effect.

Proprietors of eating and drinking establishments who have not received licenses by November 23 may continue to operate their places if they have been approved and inspected by a state sanitarian, Dr. Weest said. Licenses will be mailed in the immediate future.

Dr. Eugene Elsin, East Berlin, epidemiologist, chief of the state Restaurant and Hygiene Division of the Health Department, said today that a recent survey of Adams county eating and drinking places revealed them to be in excellent condition.

LEADERSHIP SCHOOL ENDS

The annual business session in connection with the closing of the Leadership Training school at St. James Lutheran church on Thursday evening was postponed until November 30. The Rev. Nevil Frantz, Arendtsville, is president of the board of directors of the school.

Twenty-one students received credit for completion of the three-week course of training given each Monday and Thursday at St. James church. There were 29 enrolled.

The instructors were Dr. Ralph Scrafford, supervisor of special education in the county schools; Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the seminary faculty; and Prof. Charles L. Yost, Biglerville.

Those who received credits from the International Council of Christian Education were: Rosea Armor, Edith Carbaugh, Mrs. Sara B. Gidner, Ruth Anna Kime, Sara E. Mehrling, Mrs. George Rightmyer and Mrs. Walter Slaybaugh under Doctor Scrafford; John Keefe, Verna Kitzmiller, Helen Paxton, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shriver, Mrs. E. Donald Scott, Miss Wynona Woodward, and Mrs. O. D. Coble under Doctor Hoover; and Mrs. Kermit O. Deardoff, Pauline Hoffmann, Mildred Reaver, Mrs. Clair Routsong, Mrs. Russell Stoops and Lois E. Waybright under Professor Yost.

PLAN HOLIDAY MART SESSION ON WEDNESDAY

A special holiday session of Farmers' Market will be held next Wednesday morning. It was announced this morning. Sales at the extra Thanksgiving session will begin about 5 a. m.

Orders were being taken for turkeys for Thanksgiving delivery at 60 cents dressed weight and 40 cents live weight. Dressed chickens were offered at 55 and 58 cents for fowls for roasting and 60 cents for fryers. Dressed ducks can be had at 50 cents a pound; dressed geese, 65 cents; and dressed geese, 56 cents a pound.

There was sauerkraut at 35 cents a quart; sweet potatoes, 10 and 15 cents; potatoes, 30 cents a half peck and $1 a half bushel; celery, 20 cents a stalk; lettuce, 10 cents a box, and black walnuts, 15 cents a quart box.

The apple supply was low. York Imperials were offered at 35 cents a quarter peck and Black Twigs were on sale at the same price. Paradise brought 50 cents a half peck.

Ordering Xmas Trees

The demand for pork continued to be heavy but prices were unchanged. Scrapple sold for 18 cents a pound or two pounds for 35 cents; sausage, 42 cents; sirloin, 50 cents; lamb, 18 cents; backbone, 28 cents; ribs, 25 cents, and pudding, 35 cents a pound.

Egg prices showed no change this week, ranging from 50 cents a dozen for pullet eggs to 62 cents. Farmers said an increase in the egg prices is expected.

One stand at market today was taking orders for Christmas trees.

The short supply of apples in the county this year has reduced the number of hucksters at market. Apples usually form the staple offering for this time of year but many growers no longer have any apples on hand and some already have stopped attending market here until next spring.

Catholic Veterans Boost Membership

The newly-organized Annunciation Post, No. 372, Catholic War Veterans, now has a membership of 102 veterans. It was announced at a meeting of the post on Wednesday in McSherrystown. Bernard I. Noel, commander, presided.

The post went on record as favoring a measure introduced in Congress by Congressman Thomas Lane, of Massachusetts. The measure would provide terminal leaves for enlisted men and women on the eve of their discharge from the armed forces. At present, officers alone receive terminal leaves. The Catholic War Vets asked other organizations to endorse the bill and decided to circulate petitions to be forwarded to the Military Affairs Committee in Congress.

The Annunciation Post, at its meeting on Wednesday, voted a donation in the Adams County War campaign.

LAST CASE IN JURY'S HANDS

With testimony completed late Friday afternoon and final arguments by counsel and the court's charge being delivered this morning, the last jury trial for the November session was under deliberation today by a jury of four women and eight men.

Compensation for damage to his truck and for loss of profits by having it out of use for a long period are asked by Harold C. Gabler, Chambersburg, in his action against Dwight L. and Paul Strausbaugh, sons and executors of the will of the late Edward F. Strausbaugh of Gettysburg, the owner of the second truck involved.

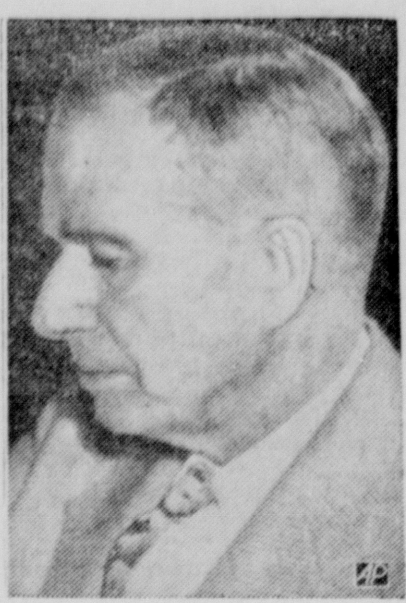

The accident forming the basis for the suit occurred January 19, 1944, near the Carroll-Baltimore county line on the Westminster-Reisterstown road. Gabler's gasoline tank truck struck the parked Strausbaugh truck which was loaded with concrete blocks.

Gabler alleges that the Strausbaugh truck was parked on the highway, without lights, flares or reflectors on a curve near a hillcrest. The defense contends that snowbanks prevented the driver, Byron Kint, Mt. Hope, from driving off the highway when the lights of his truck went out. He was in the act of getting flares out of the truck to be placed on the highway when the crash occurred, it is claimed.

RELIEF PAY DROPS

FRENCHMEN TO ASK DE GAULLE NOT TO RESIGN

By REELMAN MORIN

Paris, Nov. 17 (AP)—Fifteen representatives of the three dominant French parties met today to discuss the current political crisis, and it is known that the Socialist party moved that the two others join in a request to Interim President de Gaulle to withdraw his tendered resignation.

The offer was reported to have been declined by the Communists, and the meeting ended without any announced result. The delegates of the popular Republican movement (MRP) were known to have announced to the other party leaders that they would not vote in the assembly to accept De Gaulle's resignation.

De Gaulle himself was reported refusing to compromise with Communist demands for one of the three key cabinet portfolios—war, interior or foreign affairs.

"Not Bluffing"

An intimate of the interim president said his trump card in the battle was the fact that he does not "especially want the job" of being president of the interim government.

"The general isn't bluffing—isn't playing politics," this long-time associate of De Gaulle reported. "He would just as soon retire to private life."

Normally the next step would be for the assembly to elect a new interim president who would undertake the task of forming a government. However, France has been so completely under the shadow of De Gaulle's popularity that this action has been deferred, and French party leaders are working for a solution. They seek an agreement among themselves which they can place before De Gaulle before the crucial assembly meeting which is scheduled for Monday.

By all indications, if any concessions are made they will have to come from the Communists. Persons close to De Gaulle assert he will not budge from his decision not to entrust the Communists with direction of the nation's foreign affairs, police force or army.

Given Alternative

The general is reported to have told Maurice Thorez, secretary general of the French Communist party, that he considers the Communists' first loyalty is to Moscow and not Paris.

De Gaulle then offered the Communists an alternative—their choice of the ministries of industrial production, national economy, finance, food supply and transport. They refused.

Some observers believe the Communists anticipated De Gaulle's reaction and went ahead in order to assume the role of opposition party. This would free De Gaulle to form a cabinet of Socialist and popular Republican movement (MPR) followers. Between them, the two parties control almost two-thirds of the assembly.

Former Commander Of Legion Expires

Death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. He was stricken Oct. 28 while on a train enroute to Winchester, Fla.

Long prominent in Legion affairs, Isherwood was backed by the Pennsylvania department for national commander in 1944.

R. J. MUNLEY'S BACK BROKEN; CONDITION IS REPORTED GRAVE

Aviation Radio Mechanic Robert J. Munley, 20-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. James J. Munley, West Lincoln avenue, is in a "grave" condition at the Naval hospital, Seattle, Wash., with a broken back, partial paralysis and a fractured wrist as a result of an automobile accident, near Seattle. The mishap occurred November 8.

The Munleys have not been informed of the details of the accident but have been constantly advised of their son's condition by hospital officials and the Red Cross. They plan to go to their son's bedside as soon as they are advised by the hospital surgeon. They were told that Naval authorities are considering moving young Munley to a California hospital where the services of a specialist on back fractures will be available.

Enlisted At 17

"Bob" Munley enlisted in the navy when he was 17 years old immediately after he graduated from high school. He attended a naval radio school in Harrisburg and Middletown then was transferred to Bainbridge. Later he was sent to a radio and radar school at Jacksonville, Florida, thence to Beauford, N. C., and after completing the course there he was sent to Seattle.

From Seattle he was sent to the Aleutians where he completed 27 missions on a pursuit bomber. Recently he was returned to the States and stationed at Whidby Island, near Seattle.

In high school he was on the swimming squad and at Jacksonville he won four ribbons in back stroke races.

Three weeks ago young Munley spent a brief leave at his home here. For the first time in 3 years he met his brother T/5 James J. Munley, Jr., who had been returned from Germany and was discharged after serving four years. Jimmy Munley, who is now a student at Gettysburg college, has five battle stars, the Presidential unit citation and the Good Conduct medal. He served with General Patton's 4th Armored Division.

FUGITIVE HUNT IS FRUITLESS

Four days after he escaped from the Adams county jail by climbing to the roof with the aid of a bench and sliding down a rain spout, Jeri C. Caldwell, 24, of Danville, Ky., was still at liberty today.

Only meager clues were left by the escaped former serviceman, which were run down by Sheriff John E. Millhines without success. A truck driver reported seeing Caldwell on the Littlestown road a mile from Gettysburg a short time after the escape, and a report was also investigated that Caldwell had been seen running into a woodlot near the Hoffman orphanage.

Caldwell left behind a 1942 Buick automobile in which he was arrested Monday by state police on a motor code violation. He was driving the car with expired Kentucky license plates, the state police said. He was committed to jail in default of a $25 fine by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, and escaped from the exercise yard at the jail Tuesday afternoon.

ISAIAH SHILDT DIES ON FRIDAY

Isaiah T. Shildt, 77, well-known resident of Harney, passed away at his home at 8:15 Friday night. Funeral services will be held from the home at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with later services at the Harney Lutheran church, with the Rev. W. F. Rex, pastor, in charge. Burial will be in the Taneytown Lutheran cemetery.

JUSTICE NEEDS STAMPING OUT OF BLOOD LUST

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Writer

You don't have to be vindictive or cold-blooded to feel extreme satisfaction that justice has overtaken Josef Kramer, the "beast of Belsen," and twenty-nine others who perpetrated the horrors of the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camps.

The story isn't yet complete. A British military court at Lüneburg has convicted these fiends who killed by torture for the pleasure they got out of it. The wages of their sins still have to be collected—and the world at large hopes that payment will be made in full.

Those sins are too well known to need much repetition here. Tens of thousands of wretched prisoners (nobody knows just how many) were killed by slow and deliberate starvation. Some of them in their anguish cut flesh from bodies for food. Many were beaten to death or were tortured in other ways. The practices of Kramer and his evil crew were a throwback to the darkest days of primitive man.

Deeds Typify Nazis

It would be a welcome relief if we could say that the deeds at these two camps were isolated instances. But these sadistic murderers represent far more than the atrocities for which they personally were responsible. They typify the fanatical Nazi of all ranks, for Hitler and Goering and the other leaders inspired this crime, even if they didn't carry it out personally.

The Nazi fuhrer was one of the most terrible mass-murderers of all time. Kramer rubbed his hands over the slaughter of thousands, while Hitler dealt death to millions. But the point is that Kramer got his ideas from the fuhrer. So did others like fat Hermann Goering, Hitler's second in command, who wouldn't raise his bejeweled hands to commit murder personally but dictated orders which brought the tragedies of war and extermination to a countless host.

Stamp Out Blood Lust

Unfortunately this barbarism hasn't been confined to Europe. The Allies have encountered it in terrible forms in the Orient, and the Japs not only committed atrocities against our troops but did hideous things to civilians, even little children, in the countries which Nippon overrun.

Thus one of the greatest tasks of rehabilitation which the Allies must perform, both in Europe and in the Far East, is to wipe out this evil influence—the blood-lust which leads to wars. There's only one way to do it, and that is to run to earth and bring to trial every man and woman suspected of atrocities, and the thing must cut deeper than that, because the war lords also must suffer for aggression.

$389 MILLION IS UNION TAKE

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—A Treasury report that 28,638 labor unions took in $389,686,000 in one year brought renewed insistence among some lawmakers today that curbs be placed on union financial contributions in elections.

Congress also confronted one of its most explosive tax problems as the report disclosed that tax-exempt organizations, including unions and farm cooperatives, had gross income of $5,000,000,000 in 1943.

Farm co-ops, the report said, collected a gross of $2,233,904,000 that year.

The report on income tax-exempt organizations was prepared on direct instructions from Congress. The requirement was written into the tax law early last year when there was wide controversy over contributions to political campaigns.

Rep. Smith, (D-Va.), co-author of the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act, told newspapermen this first report on the income of unions "shows a very definite need for strengthening the corrupt practices law to prevent unions from financing elections, as was done in 1944." Taking note of the gross income of co-ops, Chairman George, (D-Ga.), of the Senate Finance Committee said:

"We have got to look into this matter from a tax viewpoint. The co-ops are growing by leaps and bounds. The possibilities of their qualifying for tax exemption have multiplied. They present a problem not only for other enterprise, but they are a tax problem."

HOME REMEDY

Denver, Nov. 16 (AP)—Eight year old Betty Waterhouse has swallowed eight pennies in the last two years. Each time it happened Betty was on her way home from the grocery store, and her mother has finally hit upon a plan to prevent a recurrence.

The first seven pennies caused no trouble, but the eighth gave Betty a stomach ache, a 104-degree fever, and had to be removed by a doctor. It was then Mrs. Daisy Waterhouse decided to give Betty the exact amount for groceries so there won't be any change.

Chicago Jammed For Legion Convention

Chicago, Nov. 17 (AP)—The American Legion moved into Chicago today for its first postwar World War Two convention, facing such prime peacetime problems as universal military training, employment, housing and rehabilitation of veterans.

Hotel rooms for the four-day convention opening tomorrow were scarcer than Congressional Medals of Honor. The Legion had only some 3,000 rooms reserved for 2,031 delegates, as many alternates, plus officials, staffs, distinguished visitors and speakers.

Legionnaires without official convention business and without reservations made through their state adjutants were strictly on their own.

One official spokesman said that, since the Legion had advocated peacetime military training since 1919, the big question before this convention would be what form of such training the delegates wish to endorse—whether to go along with President Truman's universal one-year training proposal or recommend some other plan.

State Speeds Up Unemployment Pay

Harrisburg, Nov. 17 (AP)—Beginning next Wednesday, unemployment compensation checks will be handed to eligible persons at local employment offices, the Department of Labor and Industry said in announcing a plan to speed up delivery of checks to idle workers in Pennsylvania.

Heretofore, benefit checks were mailed.

Commenting on the speed-up, Secretary William H. Chesnut asserted, "under the law the claimant is entitled to his check when he has been idle for a week and any delay in receiving benefits may not only be an annoyance to him but may also be a real inconvenience."

The new system, already tried out in three local offices, will "eliminate the delay incident to mailing and also the delay which was part of the old administrative system," Chesnut added.

The checks will be waiting for claimants at local offices when they come in to sign the records at the end of the waiting period. The old mailing system required from three to 10 days, depending on the distance from Harrisburg, for checks to reach claimants.

22 Persons Hurt In Indiana Wreck

Lydiak, Ind., Nov. 17 (AP)—At least 22 persons were injured, two seriously, in a collision of the New York Central system's eastbound advance Commodore Vanderbilt passenger train and derailed cars of a west-bound freight train yesterday.

Most of the injured were members of the train crew and staff. Seven of the 15 cars of the all-Pullman train and the locomotive overturned. Two cars sprawled on their sides in a cornfield about three miles west of Lydiak, which is six miles west of South Bend.

Railroad headquarters in Chicago said 214 passengers were aboard the popular Chicago-New York train as it side swiped freight cars that spilled in its path. Ten of 24 freight cars were demolished and a quarter of a mile of track was torn up.

Cause of the wreck was not immediately announced officially.

"Ike" Asks Veterans To 'Enlist With Me'

Pittsburgh, Nov. 17 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower chatted with soldiers and sailors bound for a separation center last night and told them to "come back and enlist with me" if they don't get good jobs.

He laughed heartily when the troops countered with "what's the pay?"

Enroute from Washington to Chicago, the general's train stopped at the Pennsylvania station here and he was joyfully mobbed when his car was switched alongside a troop train.

G. I.'s crowded around the rear platform of the Allied commander's car, shook hands with him and had him sign approximately a hundred autographs.

He inquired solicitously of one G. I. who came out in shorts only, "aren't you cold?"

When one quipped to the general that he was "all right—a regular Joe," General Eisenhower seriously told them:

"You fellows are all right, too. You are the kind who made me."

Convert 15 Ships To Return Troops

London, Nov. 17 (AP)—The U. S. navy announced today that 15 men of war, including the famous aircraft carrier Enterprise and the battleship Washington, have been converted for the redeployment of troops from Europe. Each will make at least four westward passages before Feb. 1, 1946.

Use of the ships, supplementing regular transports, is expected to provide transport home for more than 145,000 troops during the next three and one half months, Admiral H. Kent Hewitt, commander of U. S. naval forces in Europe, said in a press conference.

The program however, will slow demobilization of navy personnel.

SAYS COAL WILL BE REPLACED BY "ATOMIC HEAT"

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Philadelphia, Nov. 17 (AP)—Within 10 years power companies designing new plants for city service may be considering favorably the use of uranium's atomic heat instead of coal.

This prediction was made to the American Philosophical Society and the National Academy of Sciences here by Dr. Arthur H. Compton, the Nobel prize scientist who headed the scientific work that produced the present atomic ovens to manufacture plutonium at Pasco, Washington. He is now president of Washington University, St. Louis.

He said the power companies would consider the substitution of uranium for coal for purely economic reasons, adding that this forecast did not take into account the possibility of political or social controls which might change atomic power developments.

Eliminate Smoke

"This of course," Dr. Compton said, "does not mean that atomic power will put coal out of business. Each will have its own field. For small heating units, such as kitchen stove, atomic power has no place. If our national economy grows as it should, coal as a chemical agent will increase in importance."

Dr. Compton said uranium may reduce the cost of heat and power to cities. There will be the boon of no smoke.

"I wish," he said, "that I could show you the atomic power plants. (In addition to Pasco there is one at Oak Ridge, Tenn., also making plutonium). They are the sweetest machinery operating with the least trouble of any power plant that I know."

Dr. Compton said that a reasonably efficient atomic power plant could be put into operation within a year, making superheated steam to drive a turbine. But this plant would be only a demonstration, and not economic without a number of years of further development.

"Prominent advantages of atomic power," he said, "are the extraordinary low rate of fuel consumption and consequent low cost of fuel, wide flexibility and easy control, and complete absence at the power plant of smoke or noxious fumes."

CANNERS AGAIN UPSET MAROON RESERVES, 14-0

Biglerville high school's reserves repeated an early season performance by defeating the Gettysburg high scrubs on the local gridiron Friday afternoon 14-0.

Two intercepted passes, one each in the third and fourth periods, were the turning points in the game. Following each Biglerville drove about 40 yards for scores, C. Heller and Bohrer scoring the six-pointers. Passes to Bohrer and Bucher were good for the extra points.

Neither team played well in the first half but the Cannners were a decided improvement in the second half while the Maroons could not generate enough power to threaten. Wolfgang played well offensively for the Haehnien-stood while Westerdahl and Wolfgang stood out on the defense.

The game was the final of the season for both teams. Gettysburg won two of six games while Biglerville copped three of four decisions. The lineups:

Biglerville	Gettysburg
Le. McCarthy	Foth
l.t. Walker	Kane
l.g. Weaver	Williams
c. Weigle	Dunkinson
r.g. House	Sanders
r.t. Welkert	Coleman
q.b. Bohrer	Angelo
r.b. Bucher	Ridinger
l.h. Rexroth	Westerdahl
r.h. M. Heller	Hottle
f.b. C. Heller	Wolfgang

Score by periods:
Biglerville 0 0 7 7-14
Gettysburg 0 0 0 0-0
Touchdowns, C. Heller, Bohrer. Points after touchdown, Bohrer, Bucher (passes). Substitutions: Biglerville—Rice, Cristofaro; Gettysburg—Shetter, Steinberger. Referee, J. Pitzer. Umpire, Dracha. Headlinesman, Robinson.

ARMY SEEKING 17TH STRAIGHT

Philadelphia, Nov. 17 (AP) — The all-conquering Cadets of West Point went after their 17th straight victory at the expense of the University of Pennsylvania's "kid" football team today on Franklin Field.

Led by the powerhouse combination of Glenn Davis and Felix Blanchard, the Army team entered the fray with 10 to 11 players who shared in the 62-7 triumph over the Red and Blue last year in the starting lineup. Approximately 73,000 sat in on the kick-off.

Although they were favored to win at odds ranging from 31 to 40 points, Earl Blaik, West Point head coach, labelled the game the stiffest challenge Army has had since its streak of 16 consecutive wins started with the opener of last season.

When told the odds, Blaik snorted. "Why that's ridiculous!" he ejaculated, "all right to have us favored by, say two touchdowns, so we lose and it's an upset! But 40 points—that's ridiculous, that's all!"

Sport Shorts

East Lansing, Nov. 17 (AP)—Patched up but still intact, the regular Michigan state college lineup will answer the whistle today against Penn state as the elevens resume gridiron relations after a lapse of 20 years before an estimated 12,000 fans.

Today's clash will be the first between Penn state and Michigan state on spartan soil, each team having won one victory in previous meetings in 1914 and 1925.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 17 (AP)—Undeclared and untied Holy Cross will seek its sixth straight victory when it plays host to the once-beaten Temple eleven today at Pitton field.

Sensational halfback Stan Koslowski, fully recovered from an old leg injury, is expected to lead the crusaders to another victory in the 11-game series with the Owls, who will field a heavier line but lighter backfield.

Boston, Nov. 17 (AP)—An injury-riddled Boston college eleven will try to get back in the victory column today against a heavier Scranton university team at Fenway Park.

The visitors are expected to rely on a strong passing attack with speedy Tom Jurkovic on the receiving end. Coach Moody Sarno has built the Eagles' offense around halfback Tom Carney.

Leaders In Hockey Loop Meet Tonight

(By The Associated Press) Hershey and Indianapolis, the two divisional leaders in the American Hockey League, meet tonight for the first time this season, with the Bears playing host.

Neither team can drop out of the op spot in its respective division off tonight's result, but the Hershey Bears need a victory to stave off a threatening challenge from Buffalo.

Pittsburgh and Cleveland collide on the Barons' ice in a struggle for second place in the western half of play in the only other game on the Saturday program.

The Sunday night schedule calls on Cleveland at Buffalo, St. Louis at New Haven, and Indianapolis at Providence. Hershey and Pittsburgh are not scheduled.

Sam Byrd Is Man To Beat At Mobile

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 17 (AP)—Fellow pros were touting steady-stroking Sam Byrd of Detroit, Mich., as the man to beat in Mobile's $10,000 Azalea open golf tournament today as the meet went into its third round with a field reduced to 60.

After watching the former New York Yankee ballhawk pound out two straight rounds of 69 and 70 for pace-setting 139, Jimmy Thomson, the long-driving New Yorker, remarked that Sammy would be the boy to step up for that $2,000 victory bond first prize money, come Sunday.

Right behind Byrd with a 140 was the veteran Benny Shute of Akron, Ohio, who added a one-under par 71 to his first round 69.

One stroke back of Shute with 141s were Belton Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Stan Horne of Montreal, Canada.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLETON, JR.
New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Among the ambitious projects being lined up by the scholastic sports institute (limited in name but apparently not in scope) are surveys of injuries among high school athletes and of eligibility rules. Its a safe prediction that headman Herb McCracken and his staff will find that injuries are most frequent where the coaching and medical supervision is weak and that the eligibility survey will produce one grand headache. Baseball's high school committee has been trying to find out about eligibility for a year or so and can't find any two states where the rules are the same.

SHORT AND SHELLS

Word trickling in from the mountains is that Frankie Sinkwich's leg injury was a lot more serious than first reported and that flat-foot Frankie likely never will play football again. And midwestern scouts say you can look for a real barn-burner of a basketball team at Notre Dame this winter. It'll have to be good to make the Irish forget the army and navy football games.

The first son of a western Michigan college athlete to make a bronco team is 17-year-old Swift Noble, 6-foot-5 football and basketball player whose Dad played in 1916-17. If the kid only had "tough" in there somewhere, he'd have the perfect name of an athlete.

BRIGHT IDEA DEPT.
Query from S/Sgt. Jack Fleischer, AAF hospital, Pawling, N. Y.: "Don't you think that if Army is allowed to participate in a post-season game, it would be more logical for the cadets to play the winner of the National professional league? An attraction of this calibre would pack any stadium and I think it would be a good idea to stage this game as a climax to the Victory Loan drive." Okay, Jack, but you tackle Red Blaik on the subject.

BAPTISTS' ACT MAY NOT STOP TRUMAN HONOR

Ft. Worth, Texas, Nov. 17 (AP)—An official of the Baptist general convention here expressed belief that a resolution approved by the group would not affect Baylor university's offer of an honorary degree to President Truman.

Rev. Roy L. Johnson, of Canyon, Texas, convention secretary, referred to the resolution which took note of the President's "reported attitude as a Baptist toward gambling and drinking." The convention instructed trustees of all Texas Baptist colleges and universities not to confer an honorary degree on persons holding "to such a position."

Johnson said he believed Baylor trustees may interpret the action as applying to future invitations and not to the bid already extended to the President.

Secores Convention

The Chief Executive had been invited by President Pat M. Neff, of Baylor to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree at Waco, December 5. Mr. Truman, after tentatively accepting the offer, cancelled the trip recently because of pressing business in Washington.

At Waco, Neff had no comment on the resolution but Dr. J. T. Harrington, chairman of Baylor trustees, declared:

"I think the action of the general convention is an infringement by a general body on the inherent personal rights of Baptists as individuals and on the rights of Baptist institutions.

"Each Baptist church and institution is a law unto itself. The institutions are governed by the trustees and the general convention has no right to instruct the trustees as to what they should do. The convention can change the trustees but not instruct them what to do."

The Rev. Forrest Feezor, of Fort Worth, vice president of the convention, said the resolution, presented by the Rev. L. L. Roloff, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, Corpus Christi, Texas, was not discussed and was acted on quickly.

East Berlin

East Berlin—The five churches of the local Evangelical and Reformed charge combined during the past week to tender a reception to their newly elected pastor, the Rev. Alvin J. Forry, and his family, at Zwilling church, here. Among visiting clergymen participating in the services were: The Rev. Elmer Drumm, pastor of the New Chester Lutheran charge; the Rev. Franklin Glassmeyer, Spring Grove; and the Rev. George W. Welsh, D.D., pastor of Zion Reformed church, Spring Grove, who began his ministry at the East Berlin charge 50 years ago.

Miss Mary McGheen, Hazleton, and the Misses Virginia and Maxine Bruen, Washington, D. C., spent the week-end with Miss Betty J. Lerew, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Lerew. The four young women were at one time co-workers in a position at Washington. Mrs. Lerew is much improved after having had a serious sickness in the early fall.

ARMY, NAVY IN FINAL CLASHES PRIOR TO TILT

By MURRAY ROSE
New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Army and Navy wind up for their December 1 championship clash today with the all-conquering Cadets meeting the crack Pennsylvania Quakers and the undefeated Middies opposing the weak Wisconsin Badgers.

The Cadets are rated four to five touchdowns favorites to make the Quakers their 17th straight victim in two years and some 73,000 fans will be in Philadelphia's Franklin Field to see if the once-beaten, Ivy league champion Penn team can extend Glen Davis, Doc Blanchard and company.

While the Cadets will be engaging a formidable foe, Navy's Middies will be getting their first breather in a month. Having finally come into their own in the Michigan tilt, the Middies aren't expected to have too much trouble from the thrice-beaten, twice-titled Badgers. A 40,000 turnout is anticipated for the Baltimore contest.

The Big Ten schedule also sends Minnesota, beaten in its last three games, against even more impotent

TEXTS FROM GOLF

No more the golfing parson strives
For pars of three and fours and fives.
The course is white with drifted snow
And bitter are the winds that blow.
Deserted is the starting tee
Where summer-long he used to be.

Last time we met the skies were gray.
"Farewell, farewell!" he stopped to say.
"Henceforth for several times a week
To various luncheon clubs I'll speak.
From now until the month of May,
To all I'll preach the narrow way."

"I'll warn my people to beware
The rough that lines life's thoroughfare.
I'll tell how many a trap and ditch
Cause trouble both for poor and rich.
And beg them all, life's little while,
To keep the straight and middle aisle."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE HAPPY OUTLOOK

Our outlook on life, I believe, has more to do with our health and happiness than anything else. One of America's great losses was in the death of Dr. William Lyon (Billy) Phelps, the noted teacher of literature at Yale University. I have never known a more inspiring human being. He used to breeze into my office, rarely staying more than an hour, but the whole office was stimulated by his vital personality. What an asset to the world are folks like Phelps! My father was a minister, and as a boy I used to go with him on many of his visits to the country to call upon his parishioners. We used to meet a highly assorted group of people. I recalled one old lady we called upon. My father said: "How are you, Sister?" Her reply: "Oh, quite miserable, Pastor, quite miserable." Young as I was, that woman's reply has stayed with me. I thought to myself at the time that it was no wonder she was miserable, thinking of herself as such all the time.

By always expecting the best, and happiest, you will be well fortified in case you have to meet a serious or unhappy event. The happy outlook always pays. Not the outlook that is blind to evil in the world, and to problems whose responsibility for solution belongs to us all, but the outlook that is full of courage, inspiring all about us.

The world outlook is anything but inspiring. We cannot be adequately happy so long as there are human beings in any part of the world who are hungry and homeless. We are now reaping the whirlwind of tragedy that is always sure to follow a war that greed, jealousy and selfish power create. Billions upon billions to fight a world war, but a world negligent of its duty to raise billions to adequately educate, feed, nourish and house the world's workers.

None of us, individually, can have a perfectly happy outlook so long as there are those about us or far from us who are not being given a decent chance to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." But we can help by brightening the area in which we move and have our being. There is a statement in the New Testament that "Jesus wept." There is no record given, however, that he ever smiled, but I am sure he did, else he could not have said: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of God!"

1,000 Performances

Today's column marks completion of 1,000 consecutive weeks of its run in what might be called the third phase of motoring. It came into the picture well after pioneer days and just at the far end of a period in which the automobile was considered to be "perfected." Then something happened. Along came hydraulic brakes, all-steel bodies, floating power, safety glass, car radio, vacuum spark-control, drop center rims, synchromesh transmissions, turret tops, knee action, supercharges, over-drive and a host of other changes. Suddenly the world realized that the automobile never stands still. And so as we swing from 1926 to 1945 we see the automobile merely getting warmed up. From war's end to a date in the foreseeable future motordom is in phase four. And what a phase!

Motors On Parade
Since this column began in 1926 the mortality in new makes of cars has been a bit on the heavy side, though not to be compared with the eras before. Some of them you may never have heard of such as Blackhawk, Calvert, De Vaux, Dymaxon, Hertz, Ruxton, Kleiber, Littlemac, Martin, Windsor and Windsor White, Remembered, and sometimes pleasantly, are Falcon Knight, Erskine, Durant, Terraplane, Whippet, LaSalle, Marquette, Cord, Roosevelt, Scarab, Wolverine and Wolverine Detroit. This period also revealed a revival and demise of the earlier Mercer, not to mention the introduction of an electric job known as Dey. Optimists will point out, however, that six makes introduced since 1926 have become favorites.

What Was I Saying?
Evidently we were all doing a lot of sound thinking on the subject of motoring when this column made its debut. There was the matter of "effortless steering," for instance, which was found to be impractical since tests showed that a driver must be able to "feel" the road. There was some talk at the time about having mid-summer automobile shows, proving the great hold such exhibitions had on the public mind at that time. Interesting, too, were the discussions about making repairs fit car owners' peculiarities, a thought that is still current. A hot subject of the day was how power from the engine should be applied to the rear axle. Worm, spiral bevel, hypoid and electric forms were all being utilized at the moment. Hypoid won.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"I wasn't invited to come along for my weekly broadcasts until several years after Russell cranked up this column, but I am surprised to look back over the files and find out that what I said the week I first got philosophical about motoring is exactly what I'd like to stress right here and now. Here, in part, is what I said:
"Now that Americans are learning to slow down a little I hope for a return to the plan of occasionally allowing the car to remain over night in the service station. That used to be the general policy and it helped servicemen find out a lot of things about cars that are helpful to the owners."

"How do you like that? Doesn't it suggest that we don't advance as fast as we think we do? Here are customers begging me to find out why their engines don't start well, yet they resist the idea of leaving their cars overnight so I can find out first hand. I can tell a lot about

Helps Keep Oil Clean

I know two filling station owners who instruct their boys to make sure that the oil of customers' cars does not get contaminated from dirt around the dip stick opening. Before they withdraw the stick for a reading of the oil level they wipe around the opening with a clean cloth. It's just a simple little attention but it goes a long way toward protecting the oil system. Often there is sand, grit and gravel around the opening. Some of this can slip into the crankcase when the stick is out. More may actually be shoved into the engine when the stick is

Riding With Russell

replaced, especially if the job is done under a poor light.

Finis For Scratches

Those scratches on the windshield can be removed by rubbing with fine emery and water. Follow this by applying opclan's rouge with a soft cloth.

Better still, remember to wipe off the windshield before you use the wipers. You will usually find there is some grit on the glass which the wiper blades will make into a fine abrasive for scratching the glass.

Duryea Does It Again

Having watched the rebuilding of the early Duryea car which its builder, J. Frank Duryea, will drive in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day as part of the Golden Anniversary of the race which he won 50 years ago I have been amazed at the number of things pioneer Duryea engineered into those early jobs. Both the Chicago car as well as the number 37 which has been rejuvenated to run this year have 3-speed transmissions, center point steering and internal expanding brakes. They were right in the current groove in that controls were amazingly simplified. Shifting and clutching were done by means of the steering tiller, leaving just one pedal to control braking.

Fresh from victory in the Chicago contest Frank Duryea went on to England to win the London to Brighton race. He was vice president and chief engineer of the Stevens Duryea company when he sold it in 1915 to retire. Now he is feverishly turning up an old Duryea car for the Chicago Jubilee. Truly the amazing career of a great pioneer.

These May Interest You

The valve springs of any car take an awful beating. Someone has taken the trouble to figure out that in 50,000 miles of driving just one valve spring of an engine will deflect some 150 million times.

If you are going to have the carburetor removed for an examination see that your service man keeps it right side up and as level as possible both during removal and when placing it on the workbench. Only in this way will conditions within the unit be found to be the same as when it was on the car.

Power Killing Mufflers

Few motorists realize how important the muffler's efficiency, and type, is to engine power and performance. Chief trouble is excessive backpressure which robs power by overheating the engine and burning its valves. A simple test for the muffler is to tap it all around, not too sharply, and then find the engine a few times. If a lot of dislodged dirt and dust come out the tail pipe take it as a bad sign.

Your service man may deem it wise to take a vacuum reading at

Japanese Diplomats Moved From Bedford

Bedford, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP)—The Japanese diplomats, the housing of whom in the Bedford Springs hotel caused a furore until the State Department explained the necessity of the move, are on their way back home.

Their departure was under quiet circumstances except for the excitement caused by a grass fire that broke out near the seven buses conveying the group to a train at Cumberland, Md. Milton R. Manum, of Harrisburg, an elderly government guard, fell dead while running for a fire extinguisher to help put out the flames.

Altogether there were 189 internees here, including the diplomats and members of their families.

The diplomats were captured in Europe and brought here after the fall of Germany. Their special train will include a hospital car for two sick children and three expectant mothers. The group will go to the west coast, then head for Japan.

Idle speed with the muffler attached and compare it with a similar test when the exhaust pipe is disconnected. Any rise in the gauge indicates back pressure in the muffler.

What They Were Asking (In 1926)

Q. Every time my car reaches a speed of about 32 miles per hour there is a sharp clicking noise in the motor. When I disengage the clutch the noise continues. J. K. D.

A. I reminded this owner that since the noise is still heard when the clutch is disengaged it is not in the engine. This was diagnosed as a slight kink in the speedometer cable.

Q. There is quite a lot of noise in the rear axle of my car and I do not seem to be able to get rid of it by adjusting the pinion. What else should I consider? L. U. S.

A. I suggested inspecting the propeller shaft thrust bearing and checking for wear in the drive gear and pinion. There might be broken bearings on the axle shaft or the rivets holding the ring gear might be loose.

Q. Every time I start my car after

Nobel Winner

Prof. Wolfgang Pauli (above), of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, N. J., has been awarded the 1945 Nobel prize for physics. It was announced in Stockholm, Sweden.

It has been standing out in the cold quite a lot of water drips from the exhaust pipe. Will it be necessary to replace the cylinder head gasket? D. P.

A. This must be a perennial cause of worry. I wonder why. It just means that there is considerable condensation in the exhaust system, a normal condition in the fall and winter. No gasket leakage is indicated.

Q. What was the first American make of car to have the engine mounted in front? Did this take place in 1900? H. H. B.

A. The answer to this probably is less known today than in 1926. Columbia was the first car with the engine up front. It happened in 1902, a year before skid chains came into the picture.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply.

Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

Hollywood, Nov. 16 (AP)—"Music and lyrics by George and Ira Gershwin"—those magic words will appear again on a new motion picture.

Ira Gershwin is completing the lyrics for "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," a score he has written in collaboration with unpublished works by his brother George. At his home, Ira told me how it happened.

"When George died in 1938," he said, "Kay Swift, who had worked with him, and I went over all of his notes. We were able to collect at least 37 tunes. We put them away, together with a dozen songs my brother and I had written but never used."

This year 20th-Fox Producer William Perleberg asked Ira to do a score for the "Pilgrim." They hunted for a composer but all seemed to be busy or unacceptable. One day Ira met Miss Swift and he hastened to Perleberg with the suggestion: "How would you like me to write the score with George?"

I asked to hear the songs and Ira consented, allowing that it was the first time he had ever auditioned for the Associated Press. Miss Swift played the piano and the lyricist sang for the first public performance of the new Gershwin tunes.

It was a rare experience to hear the songs of a genius whose work was believed to be concluded. All of the 10 tunes are unmistakably Gershwin and at least one, "For You, For Me, Forever," should be as big as any of his hits.

Gwendolyn Stone is a girl who won't let a handicap keep her from a career in the movies. The 22-year-old Santa Monica girl became deaf and dumb after an attack of measles at the age of 3. She learned to read lips and graduated from Santa Monica high school with honors.

She took dance lessons for five years and was good enough to appear in many USO shows. Then she got a job dancing in "Night and Day."

Gwendolyn watched the dance coach and the other dancers to get the pattern of the routine and then listened to the music with a hearing aid. During the shooting of the numbers she picked up the rhythm and vibrations with her hands and feet. Those who watched her at Warner Brothers predict a great future.

Twentieth-Fox bought the autobiography of Sol Hurok, "Impresario," for more than $100,000. It will feature a bevy of concert artists, Patrice Munsel being the lead sign. . . . Ida Lupino will be in the Raymond Chandler thriller, "The High Window," opposite John Payne. . . . Robert Walker off to Arizona for a two-week rest. . . . The Victor McLaglen expect a child in six

GOP WOMEN GET STARTED FOR '46

Harrisburg, Nov. 17 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Republican women Friday began the spadework for the crucial 1946 state wide elections with the blessing of national and state GOP leaders.

"The political opportunity for a change of government in Washington is very bright," Herbert Brownell, Jr., Republican national chairman, told delegates to the Pennsylvania Council of Republican women, in urging them to work for victory at the precinct level.

He said the more than 200,000 majority received by Republican state months. . . . Jo Stafford one of this column's favorites, returns to the Supper Club on the radio December 11. . . . Peter Lawford dating Buff Cobb. . . . Bill Eythe is moving into his Valley home. . . . Yvonne De Carlo is taking flying lessons. There's a girl I'd like to be up in the air with.

wide candidates this year "indicates we'll win the state wide elections here and substantially increase the party delegation in the House of Representatives."

Brownell at the same time paid high tribute to Governor Martin asserting "you have at the head of the state government one of the ablest men of our generation."

Informed of Brownell's victory prediction, Martin told reporters the GOP will win in 1946 by 400,000 majority in Pennsylvania.

Pueblo, Colo., Nov. 17 (AP)—The demand for red hair dye in Pueblo is on the upswing. There are many new redheads among Central high school football players and other Pueblo boys.

The girls say the boys want red hair like Van Johnson of the movies.

"We're buying a new world for the kids"

To every grown person in America this Victory Loan has a special meaning. For every dollar invested in Victory Bonds is the first payment on a new and decent world in which our children can grow, can achieve, can become the kind of men and women all parents hope and pray and expect their children will be.

It can be a world of peace—a world in which their lives will not be cut off or hopelessly warped just as they begin to flower. It can be a world of opportunity for them in an America that is financially sound, progressive and confident. It can be an America which has cared adequately for its veterans, which has kept down inflationary pressures, which is sound and on its financial feet.

This Victory Loan will do much to lead the way. The responsibility for making this loan a success is yours. It is a responsibility which is also an opportunity—the best opportunity you have ever been offered to help build the financial future of your own family while building America's future. Surely you will invest to the utmost this last time.*

They Finished Their Job
... Let's Finish Ours!

**Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F & G U.S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.*

The Fourth Mrs. Baker

By Ernestine Adams AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 5
(Sunday 1:30 a. m. to 3:40 a. m.)
For a long time everything she looked upon seemed to be at the far end of a lighted well. This must be shock, she thought. Curiously, underneath the dazed state was a sense of being free, a lightening of the tension that she had been under. It was as if the thing she had dreaded was over and regardless of what it was, tightened nerves were released.

There was a strange unreality about Robey's death. Robey, with his strength, his sudden unreasoned flares of anger, the hidden, secret current that flowed just beneath the vivid personality with which he faced the world. He was the last one of all the group about him who seemed destined for death.

The feeling of a weird detachment from actuality carried her through the confusion that followed her appearance in the salon. Later she was able to recall some of the things that happened but at the time it was a blur made up of sound and movement. She remembered that Jerry was standing unsteadily near the window and she wondered how he had been able to get up. Dr. Wandell carried Alma to the long banquette couch that was between the doors on the south side of the room and he held her head over the side.

Other persons were in the room now. The manager and superintendent, she recognized. Then police came. Many of them. They asked questions of every one and particularly one question. Who was in the salon when it happened? No one admitted being there.

It didn't seem odd at first. The police finally accepted it as a fact. But a persistent little hammer was tapping at the back of Julia's head—something was wrong. Then suddenly she knew with startling certainty that Robey never took the most dramatic action of his life without an audience. She could imagine his taking a death leap in full sight of a gasping crowd, spurred by some traitor complex in his queer mind, but falling silently in the night with no one to view his death—that was against all probability.

"You can't question her now," Dr. Wandell was saying. "She fainted and she isn't strong enough to undergo any further strain. I'm going to take her home."

He was talking about Alma who still lay full length on the banquette her open eyes the only sign that she was conscious. The doctor's voice was positive and a little angry.

"But she's probably the one who knows how it happened," insisted a deep voice.

"You can find out in the morning, Sergeant." The sentence was clipped off, a final verdict.

It wasn't more than five minutes later that the whole stumbling investigation was brought up short. A young man came into the salon and took over the sergeant voiced one word with relief, "Inspector." He went to the door and spoke in low tones to the newcomer while the others watched openly.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Opening night at the Metropolitan Opera in New York is to go on the air, establishing something of a precedent in broadcasting. It will be carried November 26 by the ABC network, which on the following Saturday begins another season of weekly matinee pickups from the stage.

To make way, the network is clearing its program schedule from 8 p. m. until the final curtain around 11 o'clock. Besides the opera, "Lohengrin," plans call for descriptions of the first nighters and their attire, augmented by word pictures of the prevailing atmosphere.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Theatre audiences will get a glimpse of a brand new personality in Mal Wallis' "You Came Along."

Paramount film coming Monday to the Majestic theatre. Besides bringing Robert Cummings back to the screen after an absence of over two years, during which time he served as an army flight instructor, it introduces Lizabeth Scott.

Miss Scott is a tawny blonde with a low-pitched voice. She stars in the first film role of her career.

"You Came Along" is, more than anything else, a tender love story, poignant, but never mawkish. It concerns three furloughed fliers, Cummings, Don DeFore and Charles Drake, who meet up with Scott when the Treasury Department commissions her to accompany them on a bond tour. The meeting precipitates a romance between the lady and Cummings which is telegraphed but, because of unfortunate circumstances, short-lived.

WEDNESDAY

"On Stage Everybody." Universal's spectacular version of the famous radio program of the same name, comes Wednesday to the Majestic theatre. Jack Oakie, Peggy Ryan and Johnny Coy are co-starred in the screen innovation. Movie notables in the cast include Otto Kruger, Julie London, Esther Dale, Wallace Ford, Milburn Stone and the celebrated King Sisters.

How the popular air show presumably originated is told in the picture's story and ten of the broadcast's stars appear to present their own winning specialties. They are June Brady, Georgiana Bannister, Billy Usher, Eddie (Strawberry) Russell, Jean Hamilton, Bob Hopkins, Beatrice Fung Oye, Irene Woods, Ronnie Gibson and Cyril Smith.

WEDNESDAY MIDNIGHT

THURSDAY, FRIDAY

The screen's outstanding comedy team will be here in their most hilarious hit starting Wednesday midnight at the Majestic theatre when M.G.M. presents "Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in Hollywood."

This time Bud and Lou, barber and porter, respectively, decide to become actors' agents in the film capital with uproarious results. They are supported by Frances Rafferty, Robert Stanton, Jean Porter, Warner Anderson, "Rags" Ragland and Mike Mazurki.

SATURDAY,

MONDAY, TUESDAY

Barry Sullivan and Marjorie Reynolds in a scene from "Duffy's Tavern."

Ed Gardner, known to countless radio listeners as "Archie," keeper of that famous eatery, "Duffy's Tavern," is the whirlwind of the airwaves. He can't stand perfectly still for ten consecutive seconds, even while broadcasting his show, and smokes cigarettes in an almost unending chain. Now, added to his already fabulous list of accomplishments, he is a movie star.

The picture, a Paramount production bowing in Saturday at the Majestic theatre is "Duffy's Tavern." It stars Ed as "Archie," Charley Cantor as "Finnegan" and Eddie Green as Eddie, the waiter, plus a host of Paramount stars including Bing Crosby, Betty Hutton, Paulette Goddard, Alan Ladd, Dorothy Lamour, Veronica Lake, Eddie Bracken, Barry Fitzgerald, Victor Moore, Barry Sullivan and Marjorie Reynolds—only to mention a few. Needless to say, "Duffy's Tavern" is based on the famous radio show of the same name with the stars playing themselves.

Feeding Dairy Cows In Winter

Winter dairy feeding is the process of furnishing raw materials which the cow manufactures into milk. Of course, she first uses part of her feed to keep her body warm, replace worn tissues, and provide energy for muscular activity. Milk is made from the nutrients remaining. The order is never reversed. A profitable cow turns about one-half her feed into milk; the average cow returns about one-third of her feed in the form of milk; and the scrub animal rarely produces enough milk to pay for her feed.

But whether the cow is pure-bred or scrub, she demands feed to maintain body temperature according to the weather in which she is compelled to live. If her stable is cold and drafty, she uses more feed for physical maintenance; if she is housed warm and dry, she turns a higher percentage of her winter feed into milk. For every dairy cow owner this matter settles down to a choice between settling valuable grain feeds to overcome inclement weather or investing a few dollars and hours in repairing and otherwise rendering stables snug and comfortable.

It is never wise to change cow feeds abruptly. For example, a switch from hay to silage or from silage back to hay should be made gradually. If the grain ration is increased, it should be accomplished at a rate of slightly less than one pound additional each day.

Successful dairymen feed concentrates as often as the cow is milked. Where milking is done three times a day, grain concentrates are fed three times. Hay and silage should be fed twice daily.

Proteins are the most essential part of winter feeds for milk cows. This truth is better comprehended when it is known that around 27 per cent of milk solids is composed of proteins and these important elements constitute 17 to 18 per cent of the animal's body.

Grinding coarse hays and fodders does not increase their feeding value; it merely renders inedible materials and unpalatable roughages more palatable. It is only when livestock molasses are added to such roughage that any additional worth is gained nutritionally.

Grinding, rolling or otherwise crushing grain for cows is a wise investment, reducing the labor of mastication and increasing digestibility. And too, a smaller percentage of materials is lost in the process of digestion.

Salt, calcium (lime) and phosphorus are the three minerals most likely to be lacking in the winter ration of milk cows. These should be added—Salt kept available or included in the feed, finely ground limestone and bonemeal mixed in the concentrates.

Letter to the Editor

Friday Eve., Nov. 2, 1945
Southern "Okinawa"

Dear Sir:

In checking over my letter writing I find that it has been quite some time since I have written to you. I have been very busy over here working with the naval "Sea Bees." There are quite a few service men here on this island consisting of army, navy and marines and I am quite positive that we service men are all wishing for the same thing and that is to return to our home state and community as soon as possible.

I'll tell you a bit about this island. I came ashore on the fourteenth day of July. This island is approximately 75 miles long and 40 miles at the widest part. There are plenty of trees and beautiful scenes on this island. I have seen quite a few important things since I have been here. I have been to the city of Naha, rather I should say where Naha used to be, before the Yanks made a wreck of it. It was really destroyed. In fact, all the important places here were badly demolished.

Since I have been here I have learned many new things. There are a large number of caves here which the Japanese used as hideouts. There are plenty of natives here. It is quite confusing to see these natives working. The women folks do most of the work. The natives live mostly on sweet potatoes, rice and fish. The Sea Bees on this island built several air strips shortly after the invasion began. This made it convenient for our air forces to land troops and supplies and it is also a short distance from here to Japan by plane.

I know you people were as anxious to hear of the surrender of the Japanese as we fellows were over here. It was indeed a surprise to us all I am quite sure.

We have some very good highways which the Sea Bees constructed. The army engineers also played a great part in the construction of many things here too.

I have been receiving The Gettysburg Times paper each week and it is sure interesting to read about all the things that are taking place back there. Well, I will bring this letter to a close as it is about bedtime. So I'll sign off by saying good luck to all you folks back there.

Just Another Adams Countian,
Eugene C. Smyers, MOMM 3 C.

his 250,000 Godfathers no longer can!

Yes, he's a war baby, born after December 7, 1941, the date that will live in infamy. Since then some 250,000 American men have died that he might live and grow in a world of peace—that he may never have to take up arms to defend his country and his loved ones.

Our heroic dead have left us a legacy—and a trust. To us they have given the knowledge that free men will fight, and die, to preserve that freedom, not only for themselves but also for those who come after them.

To us, too, they leave the solemn duty of making certain that America will remain spiritually, economically and financially sound . . . truly a land of freedom and opportunity for little children, rich and poor, in a world at peace.

Think of those who fought and died—and then join with a generous heart and an open pocket-book in this last great Victory Loan.* The money we lend will help to lay the groundwork of a finer, better America. It's our last great fight. Let's stand shoulder to shoulder till it's won.

* Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E. F. & G. U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.
